Port of Stockton

Annual Report: “California’s Heartland Port” – Used primarily as a marketing tool at trade shows, customer functions and at general port business gatherings, the Port of Stockton’s 2007 annual report is being used to illustrate the important role the port plays in the economic development of California’s Central Valley. The report helps the port showcase how it has successfully balanced business development with responsibility to protect the environment. The port received a 73 percent response from the feedback form it provided to customers and tenants who received the annual report. Judges said they were impressed, citing the report’s layout, charts and photography as “beautifully done.”
