CARGO GATEWAY

LET MIAMI LEAD THE WAY

The world's leading cargo lines call at the Port of Miami, the 11th largest cargo container in the United States. Goods destined for more than 100 countries and 250 ports around the world go through this behemoth seaport. More than $2 billion in capital improvements are underway, destined to deepen the waters to accommodate super-sized vessels, for the construction of a new port tunnel for improved interstate access as well as re-establishing nationally linked freight rails. All of this in preparation for the 2014 expanded Panama Canal opening. Its strategic location makes it an ideal port for trade with the Far East, Latin America, Europe and the Caribbean, a list that will continue to grow as the global markets further develop.

AND WE WANT TO SAY THANK YOU!

- Cargo traffic at the Port of Miami increased 6% over the past 12 months following a 5% increase the previous year. We are building for the future with a new tunnel, a deeper waterway, and restored rail connections that will create thousands of new jobs in our community. We want to thank our partners for their support.
