The President signed the bill into law on October 4, 2006.
Western Hemisphere Travel Initiative

January 2007
Requires passports for Air travel to enter U.S.

By June 1, 2009
Passports required to enter U.S. via air, sea and land border crossings

Alternative document for land border
- People Access Security Service (PASS)
PASScard

- Section 7209 of the Intelligence Reform and Terrorism Prevention Act of 2004 authorized the DHS, in consultation with the DOS, to develop an alternative passport document.

- DOS and DHS are developing a “passport card,” a less expensive passport alternative.

- On Tuesday, October 17, 2006, the DOS proposed a rule on the passport card.
PASScard

- The PASScard is intended as a lower cost means of establishing identity and nationality for U.S. citizens for:
  1. Citizens crossing U.S. land borders
  2. Citizens traveling by sea between U.S., Canada, Mexico and the Caribbean and Bermuda.

- The proposed PASScard is $45 for adults and $35 for minors.

Judge rule on September 18 that EPA’s exemption of operational discharges is invalid, and that EPA would have to issue regulations on these discharges within two years. ICCL joined a coalition of industry groups and intervened in this pending decision of the 9th District Court of California. EPA and the industry have served Notice of intent to appeal.
Ballast Water Case in 9th District Of California

This could potentially bring other discharges into the regulatory arena, including pool and spa discharges, deck run-off, engine cooling water and certainly gray water. In the NPDES permitting process, the EPA has delegated to the states the authority to set the conditions and issue those permits.
Ballast Water Case in 9th District Of California

Industry has been working on moving federal legislation on ballast water that would establish a single national standard for ballast water discharges and preempt states from issuing requirements on vessels that differ from the national standard.
